

GetOverX Black Dog - End-User License Agreement

IMPORTANT - READ CAREFULLY

This End-User License Agreement ("Agreement") is a legal agreement between you (either an individual or a single entity) and BlackDog Security Team ("Licensor") regarding the use of the BlackDog for Linux software ("Software").

By installing, copying, or otherwise using the Software, you agree to be bound by the terms of this Agreement. If you do not agree, do not install or use the Software.

1. License Grant

Licensor grants you a limited, non-transferable, non-exclusive license to use the Software on compatible Linux-based systems, for lawful and non-malicious purposes. You may not modify, distribute, or sublicense the Software without written permission.

2. Disclaimer of Warranty

The Software is provided "AS IS", without warranties of any kind. The Licensor makes no guarantees of security, availability, or performance under all Linux distributions. Use at your own risk.

3. Compatibility and Support

BlackDog is optimized for modern Linux kernels (5.x and above). Use on outdated or unsupported distributions may result in degraded functionality. Licensor is not obligated to provide support or updates.

4. Security Responsibility

You are solely responsible for configuring and maintaining the system in a secure state. BlackDog is a tool to assist - not replace - your own security practices.

5. Legal Use Only

You agree not to use the Software to monitor, block, or tamper with systems or devices that do not belong to you or without proper authorization. Unauthorized surveillance or control is prohibited.

6. Data Handling

BlackDog does not send data to remote servers by default. However, logs and rules may be stored locally and must be handled in accordance with your applicable laws and internal privacy policies.

7. Termination

This license will terminate automatically if you violate its terms. Upon termination, you must uninstall and delete all copies of the Software.

8. Governing Law

This Agreement is governed by international software licensing practices and the local laws of your jurisdiction.
